The Secretary-General's reform agenda

Three interlinked tracks

REPOSITIONING THE UNITED NATIONS DEVELOPMENT SYSTEM:

Improving the overall United Nations approach to the 2030 Agenda through a reinvigorated RC system, a new generation of UNCTs and a restructuring of regional assets.

PEACE & SECURITY ARCHITECTURE:

Break existing silos and allow for an integrated whole-of-pillar approach to peace and security, including through enhanced focus on prevention and peace sustainment.

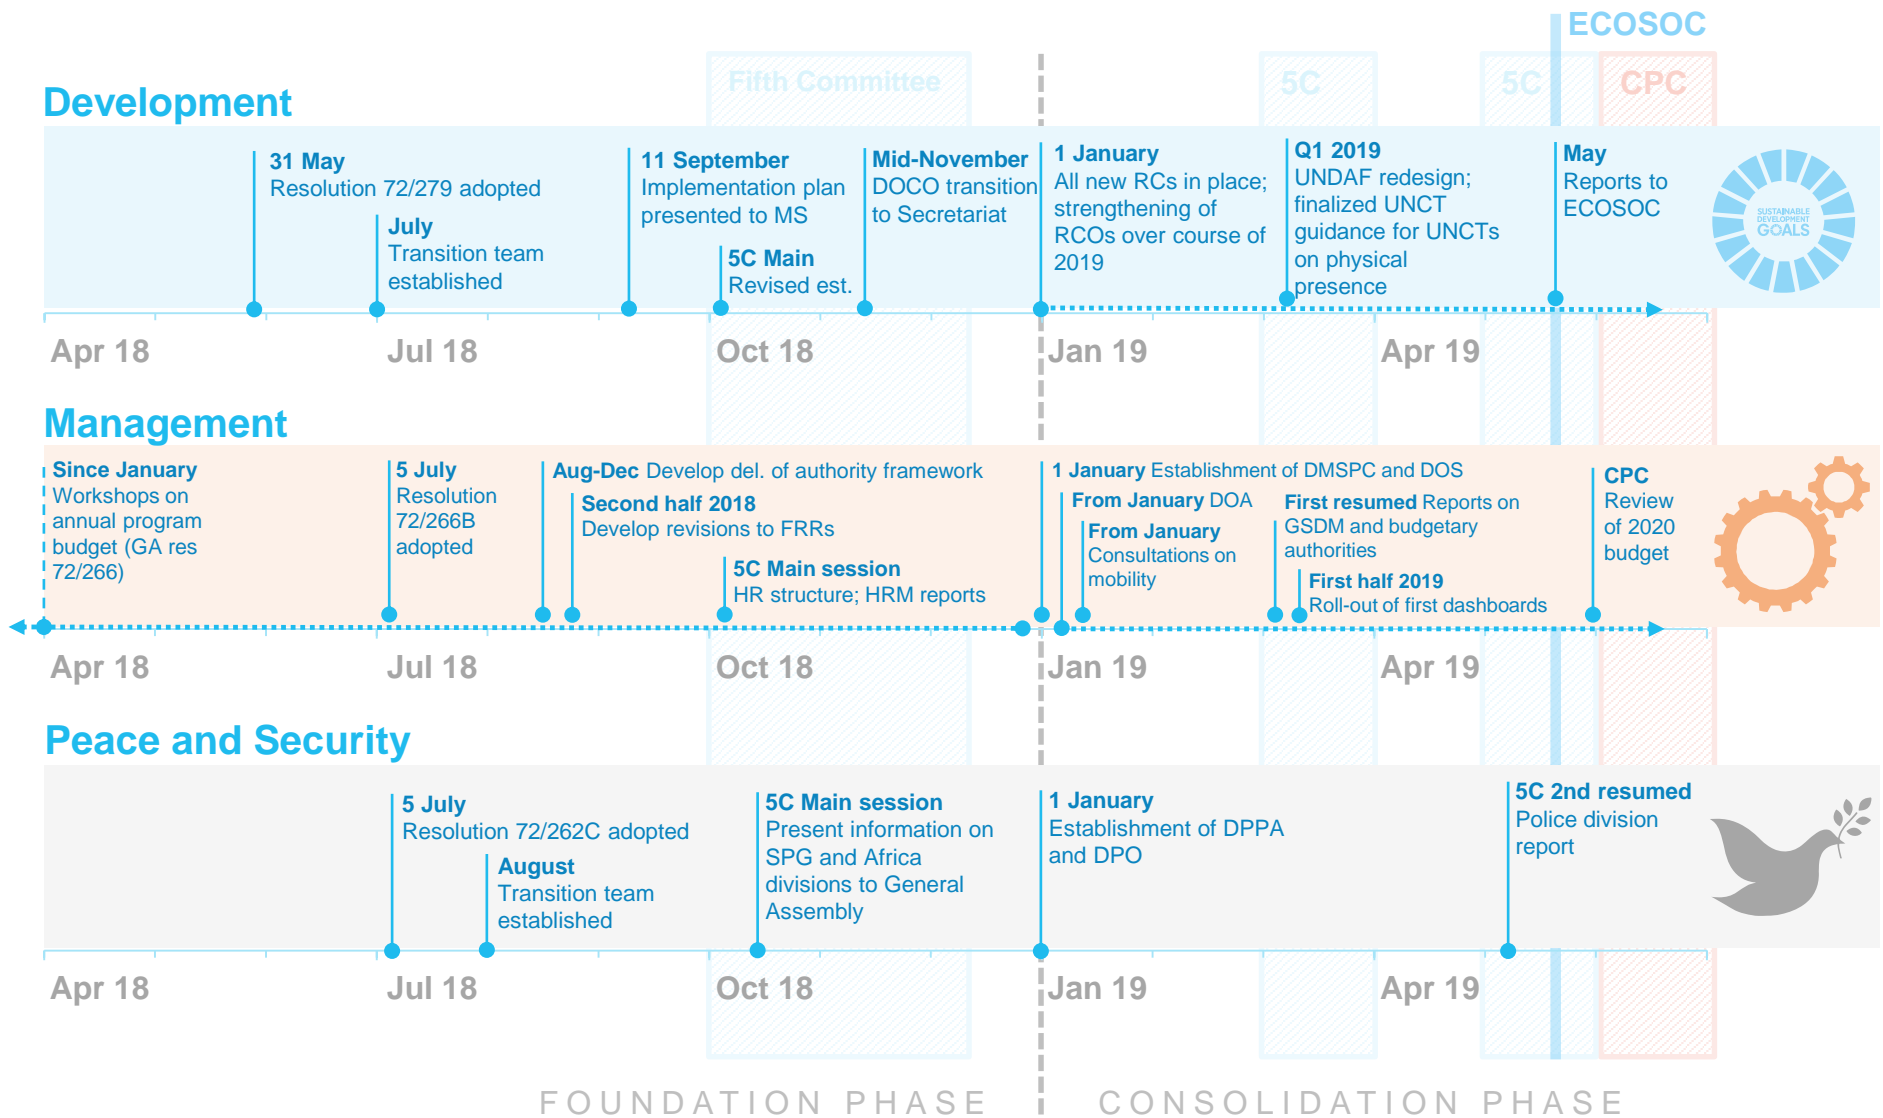

SHIFTING THE MANAGEMENT PARADIGM

Paradigm shift in management of the Secretariat through decentralization, delegation and simplification to enhance effectiveness, while strengthening accountability.

United to Reform. Better results for everyone. Everywhere.

UN Secretary-General António Guterres has made proposals to reform the United Nations since the beginning of his term in January 2017. To improve the delivery of our mandate, the United Nations is making sweeping changes in the following areas:

- Development
- Management
- Peace and Security

Development. The 2030 Agenda will require bold changes to the UN development system for the emergence of a new generation of country teams, centred on a strategic UN Development Assistance Framework and led by an impartial, independent and empowered resident coordinator.

Management. A new management paradigm for the Secretariat and a United Nations that empowers managers and staff, simplifies processes, increases transparency and improves on the delivery of our mandates.

Peace and Security. The overarching goals of the reform are to prioritize prevention and sustaining peace; enhance the effectiveness and coherence of peacekeeping operations and special political missions and move towards a single, integrated peace and security pillar.

What is benefits management?

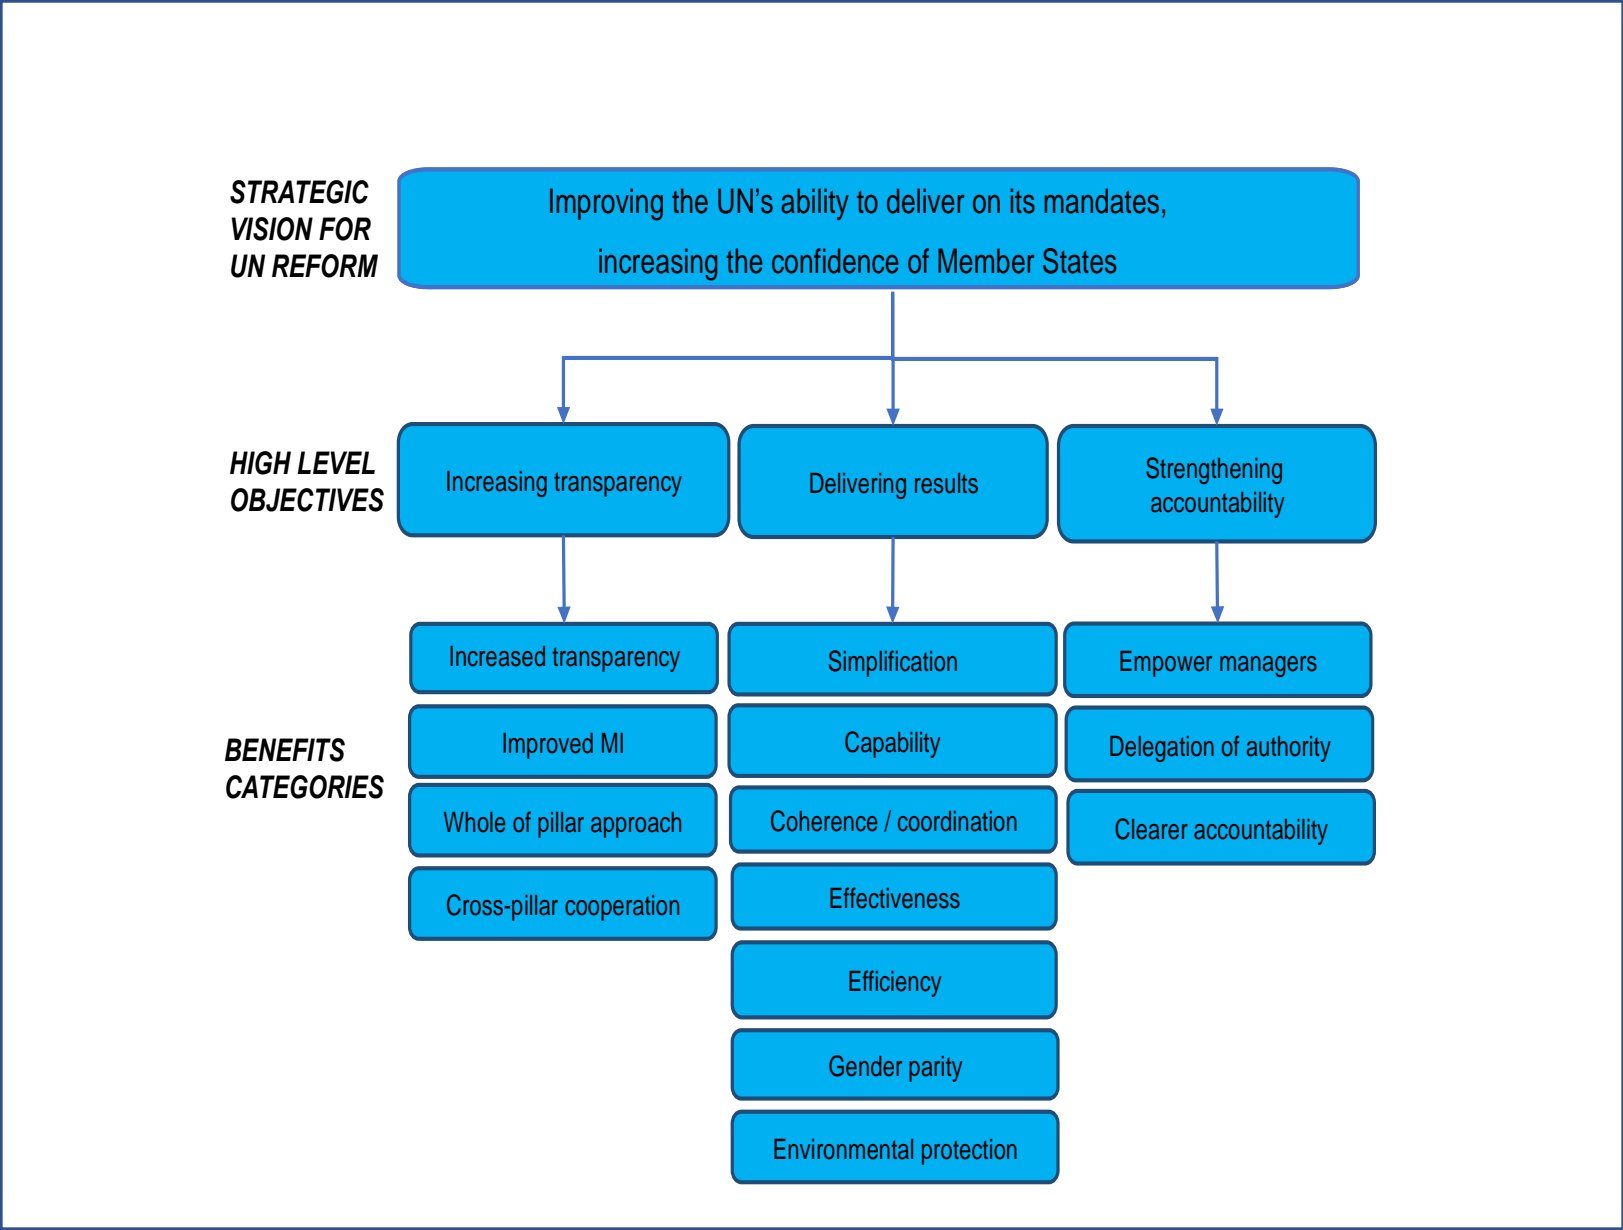

“...the identification, definition, planning, tracking and realisation of business benefits...” (APM)

Or put simply...

“every improvement is a change, but not every change is an improvement”.

How does the UN prove we are improving?

Ensuring projects (and the resulting benefits) deliver UN reform objectives
