

Dear colleagues, partners, refrigeration industry experts!

We send you our the best congratulations on celebration of World Refrigerating Day!

On today specialists of our industry guarantee the sustainable operation of global and national refrigeration chains. The state of the food industry, medical facilities and health systems directly affects on nation security in every country of the world. Each of you contributes to this important mission every day!

On behalf of GS 'Refrigeration Association of Ukraine' I congratulate you on the significant World Refrigerating Day, which is celebrated 26th of June by leading industry unions and associations related to refrigeration, air conditioning and heat pumps. This day is becoming our professional holiday and introduces the traditions that will help join our industry and its members into a strong society. This aim can promote our professions and impact on the saving environment, young people development and increase the prestige of professionals among customers and partners!

We invite you to join our initiative on World Refrigerating Day to congratulate colleagues, partners and the best professionals of your companies, institutions, and the next future generations our students and children as well! Due to the requirements of measures to prevent the pandemic spread and request from us to keep a certain distance we believe in the best future and will find any opportunity thanks of modern communications to greet all of you personally. I wish you and your families the good health, success in business and further growing, prosperity and safety! Happy Holidays, dear colleagues!

Sincerely,

June 26, 2020

Chairman of the Board of the Public Union 'Refrigeration Association of Ukraine'

S.V. Anashkin