Provisional Annotated Agenda
Provisional Annotated Agenda

Introduction

The United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development, known as Rio+20, adopted an outcome document entitled “The Future We Want” which is the basis and inspiration for ongoing global processes regarding Sustainable Development Strategies; policies to transit to more sustainable consumption and production patterns; and, the design of the new global architecture for sustainable development.

The main objectives of this 15th Meeting of the Mediterranean Commission on Sustainable Development (MCSD) is to discuss the implications of Rio+20 for the Mediterranean and how it influences regional sustainable development strategies, policies and the MCSD itself as the institution for sustainable development in the Mediterranean. It is expected that the discussions will help in crafting proposals that will enable the Mediterranean region to fully benefit from the Rio+20 outcomes and accelerate progress towards achieving sustainable development.

The MCSD will, therefore, contribute to address the request of the Contracting Parties to the Barcelona Convention at COP17 held in February 2012 in Paris, France. Decision IG20/13 recognized the role of MCSD in providing a useful multi-partner platform to contribute to regional sustainable development and provide a valuable advice to Contracting Parties in this regard, however emphasizing the need for better focusing the MCSD contribution to the MAP system taking into consideration the results of the discussions to be held in World Conference on Sustainable Development (Rio+20). COP17 also invited the Steering Committee of the MCSD to work on reforming the MCSD through revising its composition to ensure greater representativeness and foster a sense of ownership by the entire Mediterranean; and, sharpening its role and further enhancing its contribution to sustainable development.

The MCSD will also be an occasion for exchanging regional, national and local experiences on sustainable development, providing networking and learning opportunities in this regard.
