[Note by the Secretariat: As indicated in the previous note by the Secretariat, the following text is the “New Terms of Reference for the MCSD” as per Decision IG.17/5, updated and revised to reflect the recommendations taken by the MCSD at its 16th Meeting and by the Secretariat.]

Introduction

1. The Mediterranean Commission for Sustainable Development (MCSD) was established in 1995 in the framework of the Mediterranean Action Plan (MAP) as an advisory body to the Contracting Parties to assist them in their efforts to integrate environmental issues in their socioeconomic programmes and, in so doing, promote sustainable development policies in the Mediterranean region. The Commission is unique in its composition, in as much as government representatives, local communities, socioeconomic actors, IGOs and NGOs participate on an equal footing. The MCSD has so far carried out high-quality undertakings, mobilising work on priority themes for the Mediterranean, notably, water resources, integrated coastal zone management, tourism, industry etc., and developing the Mediterranean Strategy for Sustainable Development.

A. PURPOSE

2. The purpose of the MCSD is to assist the Contracting Parties to the Barcelona Convention to implement the objectives of sustainable development and other regional or local actors in their efforts to promote sustainable development in the Mediterranean region and to integrate environmental issues in their socio-economic programmes.

B. MANDATE

3. The MCSD is an advisory body to the Contracting Parties of the Barcelona Convention and represents a forum for debate with essentially the following mission:

• To assist Mediterranean countries and other stakeholders active in the region in the adoption and implementation of sustainable development policies, particularly the integration of environmental considerations into other policies;

• To ensure the follow-up of MSSD implementation through appropriate tools, mechanisms and criteria that would better enhance an efficient follow-up function;

• To promote the exchange of experience and good practices regarding the integration of environmental and socioeconomic policies, as well as examples which show the application of international sustainable development commitments at suitable scales in different countries;

• To identify the obstacles encountered and support regional and subregional cooperation for the effective implementation of the sustainable development principle;

• To coordinate the periodical drafting of the report on the state of implementation of the MCSD recommendations;

• To produce opinions of the overall MAP Work Programme, with the aim of integrating sustainability considerations into the MAP / Barcelona Convention system as a whole.
• To produce opinions and recommendations for integration and coordination of the work of the MCSD with the other existing international and regional sustainable development and environmental programmes, policy frameworks and initiatives.

C. FUNCTIONING

4. Each session of the Commission will focus on sectoral issues relevant to the MSSD, as well as other emerging sustainability issues.

5. MCSD recommendations will be presented for consideration to the Meeting of the Contracting Parties, following discussion at the meeting of the MAP Focal Points. The conclusions of the meetings should influence the Programme of Work of the MAP system, and the implementation of the Barcelona Convention by the Contracting Parties.

D. REPORTS

6. Before each session, each member should provide a concise report focusing on the implementation of MSSD and MCSD recommendations, following a template prepared by the Secretariat. The Secretariat will then prepare a summary report to be presented at the beginning of each session.

7. The analytical report of the Coordinator as per Rule 8 paragraph 4 of the Rules of Procedure will also include reports by the Regional Activity Centres (RACs) on the implementation of MSSD and MCSD recommendations relevant to their line of work.

INTRODUCTION

1. The Mediterranean Commission for Sustainable Development (MCSD) was established in 1995 in the framework of the Mediterranean Action Plan (MAP) as an advisory body to the Contracting Parties to assist them in their efforts to integrate environmental issues in their socioeconomic programmes and, in so doing, promote sustainable development policies in the Mediterranean region. The Commission is unique in its composition, in as much as government representatives, local communities, socioeconomic actors, IGOs and NGOs participate on an equal footing. During the first decade of its existence, the MCSD has so far carried out high-quality undertakings, mobilising work on priority themes for the Mediterranean, notably, water resources, integrated coastal zone management, tourism, industry etc., and developing the Mediterranean Strategy for Sustainable Development.

A. PURPOSE

2. The purpose of the MCSD is to assist the Contracting Parties to the Barcelona Convention to implement the objectives of sustainable development and other regional or local actors in their efforts to promote sustainable development in the Mediterranean region and to integrate environmental issues in their socio-economic programmes.

A. Ten years after its founding, the MCSD needs to be reformed, taking into account new international and regional developments (the Johannesburg Plan of Implementation, the Millennium Development Goals, the MSSD, etc.). Whatever the option chosen, better interaction should be sought between the MCSD and the United Nations Commission on Sustainable Development (CSD), for instance regarding the choice of themes, which should bring a breath of fresh air to the MCSD and allow its fuller integration into the international actions being carried out in favour of sustainable development. Furthermore, the composition of the Commission should be reviewed to ensure it achieves greater representativeness and fosters a sense of ownership by the entire Mediterranean community. Furthermore, the role of the Commission should be better clarified in relation to the overall MAP system and to the Barcelona Convention and its Protocols.

B. MANDATE

3. The MCSD is an advisory body to the Contracting Parties of the Barcelona Convention and represents a forum for debate with essentially the following missions:

- To assist Mediterranean countries and other stakeholders active in the region in the adoption and implementation of sustainable development policies, including particularly the integration of environmental considerations into other policies;
- Ensure the follow-up of MSSD implementation through appropriate tools, mechanisms and criteria that would better enhance an efficient follow-up function;
- Promote the exchange of experience and good practices regarding the integration of environmental and socioeconomic policies, as well as examples which show the application of international sustainable development commitments at suitable scales in different countries;
- Identify the obstacles encountered and support regional and subregional cooperation for the effective implementation of the sustainable development principle;
- Coordinate the periodical drafting of the report on the state of implementation of the MCSD recommendations;
- Produce opinions of the overall MAP Work Programme and the functioning of the Coordinating Unit and the RACs, with the aim of integrating sustainability considerations into the MAP / Barcelona Convention system as a whole.

- To produce opinions and recommendations for integration and coordination of the work of the MCSD with the other existing international and regional sustainable development and environmental programmes, policy frameworks and initiatives.

2. COMPOSITION

The MCSD is a forum for debate and exchange of experiences on sustainable development issues that concern all interested parties in the Mediterranean region. It would therefore be appropriate to involve the greatest possible variety of national actors in the work of the Commission, so as to ensure the greatest possible dissemination of the concepts promoted by the MCSD. For this to be achieved the composition of the Commission should be expanded as follows:

- 22 representatives designated by the competent bodies of the Contracting Parties
- 2 representatives of local authorities
- 3 representatives of NGOs
- 3 representatives of socio-economic stakeholders
- 3 representatives of the scientific community
- 3 representatives of intergovernmental organizations working in the field of sustainable development
- 3 eminent experts in the field of the topics of the MCSD meeting agenda

Efforts should be made to ensure participation of representatives from both environmental and development sector related to the topics of the agenda of each meeting of the MCSD.

3. PERIODICITY OF MEETINGS

The Commission will hold an ordinary meeting on a biannual basis and extraordinary sessions on a need-be-basis.

4. STEERING COMMITTEE

A Steering Committee, meeting annually, will oversee the work of the MCSD between sessions.

5. SECRETARIAT

The Secretariat of the Commission will be under the authority of the MAP Coordinating Unit.

6. FUNCTIONING

4. The Commission will hold an ordinary meeting on a biannual basis with a multi-annual planning programme. Each session of the Commission will focus on sectoral issues relevant to the (MSSD, as well as other emerging sustainability issues and CSD themes) and on cross-sectoral issues (education, public access to information, financing and cooperation, technology transfer etc.).

5. MCSD recommendations will be presented for consideration to the Meeting of the Contracting Parties, following discussion at the meeting of the MAP Focal Points. The conclusions of the meetings should influence the Programme of Work Programme of the MAP system, and the implementation of the Barcelona Convention by the Contracting Parties.

7. REPORTS
6. Before each session, each member should provide a concise report focusing on the implementation of MSSD and MCSD recommendations, following a basic draft template prepared by the Secretariat. The Secretariat will then prepare a summary report to be presented at the beginning of each session.

7. The analytical report of the Coordinator as per Rule 8 paragraph 4 of the Rules of Procedure will also include reports by the Regional Activity Centres (RACs) should also provide a report on the implementation of MSSD and of MCSD recommendations relevant to their line of work.

ANNEX II

PEER REVIEW
Introduction

The Contracting Parties to the Barcelona Convention have been developing national activities and putting in place structures and processes pertaining to sustainable development, with varying degrees in scope, content, approach and level of implementation. They are also engaged, at the regional level, in the activities developed in the framework of the Mediterranean Action Plan – Barcelona Convention in the fields of environmental governance and sustainable development.

The approaches for the development of sustainable development policies and actions are diverse and consist, generally, of cyclical and interactive approaches for planning, participation and action to foster progress towards sustainability goals. Globally, one of the key noted weaknesses is the feedback mechanisms, including monitoring, learning and adaptation. Similarly, the Contracting Parties, collectively, or individually, are facing varying challenges in elaborating, implementing, monitoring and reviewing their strategic and operational actions towards sustainable development.

These challenges offer a great potential for exchange of experiences and sharing of good practice, as well as gathering information that could be used for the assessment of progress across the Mediterranean in terms of adoption and implementation of sustainable development in general and more specifically of Mediterranean Strategy for Sustainable Development.

As recommended by the 15th Ordinary Meeting of the Mediterranean Commission on Sustainable Development (MCSD), and endorsed by the 18th Ordinary Meeting of the Contracting Parties to the Barcelona Convention (COP 18), there is clear potential and need for putting in place a simplified and affordable peer review process through which Mediterranean countries will exchange on their respective experiences and share good policies and practices on implementing sustainable development at a national level: a process for learning from other experiences and adaptation of national approaches.

Mandate to put in place a simplified peer review

The mandate to prepare a proposal on putting in place a simplified peer review is given by the Contracting Parties to the Barcelona Convention, through the adoption of the Decision IG. 21/12, at their 18th Ordinary Meeting (COP 18) in Istanbul, December 2013. Key statements of this Decision read as follows (excerpts):

- Request the MCSD to encourage, through its meetings and operations, the exchange of good practice; and

- Request the Secretariat to prepare a proposal for the consideration of the MCSD on how a simplified peer review process could be put in place.

This decision was based on the recommendations of the 15th Ordinary Meeting of the MCSD (Floriana, Malta, June 2013) on the reform of the MCSD and its mission. Among these recommendations were:

- In terms of the periodic review of national implementation of the MSSD, a simplified peer-review mechanism was suggested by several participants as a way to upgrade the very useful role of the MCSD as a regional platform for exchanges of experiences on sustainable development which the MCSD had always been useful for; and

- Encourage the exchange of good practice, for which a simplified peer review could be a tool.
Examples of peer review mechanisms

According to the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), “peer review is basically an examination of one state’s performance or practices in a particular area by other states. The point of the exercise is to help the state under review improve its policymaking, adopt best practices and comply with established standards and principles”. It relies heavily on mutual trust among the actors involved, as well as on their shared confidence in the process.

Although there is no single recipe or a standardized mechanism for the peer review, there are certain structural elements shared by all existing peer reviews: (i) a basis for proceeding; (ii) an agreed on set of principles, (iii) standards and criteria against which the performance of the reviewed country will be assessed; (iv) designated players to carry out the review; and (v) a set of procedures leading to the final result.

Among the existing peer reviews, three are relevant to the development of a simplified peer review process as they represent two different approaches: OECD peer review, BRICS+G and African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM).

The OECD peer review process – A tool for cooperation and change: Defining the peer review as a combination of the activity of several actors (the body within which the review is undertaken; the reviewed country; the examiner countries; and the Organisation Secretariat), the procedure consists of three major phases:

- The preparatory phase: The first phase of the review often consists of background analysis and of some form of self-evaluation by the country under review. This phase includes work on documentation and data as well as a questionnaire prepared by the Secretariat.
- The consultation phase: The examiner countries and the Secretariat conduct the consultation by maintaining close contact with the competent authorities of the reviewed country, and in some cases, they carry out site visits. At the end of this phase, the Secretariat prepares a draft of the final report.
- The assessment phase: The draft report is discussed in the plenary meeting of the body responsible for the review. The examiners lead the discussion, but the whole body is encouraged to participate extensively. Following discussions, and in some cases negotiations, the final report is adopted, or just noted, by the whole body.

BRICS+G - Dialogue About Sustainability And Growth In Six Countries - Brazil, Russia, India, China, South Africa (the BRICS) and Germany: This is a platform for exchange among experts (government, economic actors and civil society) of the countries involved about their experiences with sustainability and growth, with emphasis on: (i) examples from thematic areas such as energy, resource management and the social dimension, and (ii) concrete experiences with designing, managing and implementing national strategies for sustainability or comparable approaches. It consists of national conferences within which discussions are guided by four lead questions (excerpts from):

- What is the current state of the National Strategy for Sustainable Development (Overview/Stocktaking)?
- How is the National Strategy for Sustainable Development linked to Sector Policies (evaluating experiences from at least two exemplary sectors: Energy, Natural Resources and/or the Social Dimension)?
- What were factors for successes and failures of the national Sustainable Development Strategy and why? What consequences are being drawn?
- What are the conclusions regarding the relation of the national Sustainable Development Strategy, sustainability and growth?
African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM): In the framework of NEPAD\(^\text{vii}\), the APRM has been put in place with the mandate to ensure that the policies and practices of participating countries conform to the agreed values in the following four focus areas: democracy and political governance, economic governance, corporate governance and socio-economic development. As part of the APRM there are periodic reviews of the participating countries to assess progress being made towards achieving the mutually agreed goals.

Structurally the peer review mechanism is constituted as such:

- The Committee of Participating Heads of State and Government (APR Forum) is the highest decision making authority in the APRM;
- The Panel of Eminent Persons (APR Panel) oversees the review process to ensure integrity, considers reports and makes recommendations to the APR Forum;
- The APRM Secretariat provides secretarial, technical, coordinating and administrative support for the APRM; and
- The Country Review Mission Team (CRM Team) visits member states to review progress and produce an APRM Report on the country.

Based on the above mentioned MCSD recommendations and the requests of the Decision IG. 21/12, it is suggested to consider the BRICS+G approach for dialogue as basis for a simplified peer review, with a suggestion of “designated actors” based on the OECD approach. The reasons for this choice are among others: (i) the approach consist of a dialogue among willing countries and it is not a classical “peer review”; (ii) in addition to their voluntary commitment, the countries engaged in the simplified peer review are required to contribute their own resources (human and financial) throughout the process; and (iii) an equal participation of all involved countries without focus on a specific country’s structures and processes.

Proposed simplified peer review on implementing sustainable development for Mediterranean countries

Aim

To undertake a simplified peer review, in form of a dialogue about national sustainable development structures and processes through which two or more Mediterranean countries engage in a mutual improvement and learning process. This peer review mechanism will contribute to Mediterranean Strategy for Sustainable Development (MSSD) implementation.

Scope

The thematic scope of the peer review process will be the reviewed country’s overall structures and processes that have been put in place to implement sustainable development at the national level, with focus placed on concrete experiences in designing, managing, implementing and monitoring national policies and activities for sustainability. One or more proposed MSSD objectives, along with their social dimension, might be the core themes for exchange and dialogue. Proposed MSSD objectives are: 1. Ensuring sustainable development in marine and coastal areas; 2. Promoting resource management, food production and food security through sustainable forms of rural development; 3. Planning and managing sustainable Mediterranean cities; 4. Addressing climate change as a priority issue for the Mediterranean; 5. Transition towards a green and blue economy; 6. Improving governance in support of sustainable development.

Underlining Principles

The following main principles are essential to the peer review process:
Voluntary: The involvement in the simplified peer review process is entirely voluntary and it is the choice of two or more countries to undertake a collaborative meaningful process of mutual improvement and learning.

Learning by doing and sharing: Countries involved engage in constructive and positive joint process based on gathering and sharing information on respective practices and experiences.

Participatory: The participation of relevant national stakeholders (e.g. government departments, economic actors, civil society), at the level of experts and/or practitioners, is crucial to the success and credibility of the process.

Flexibility: There should be sufficient flexibility so that involved countries can agree adapted and adequate thematic scopes as well as procedures leading to final results.

Enabling conditions

Commitment and ownership: The improvement and learning process can function properly only if there is an adequate level of commitment of and ownership by the involved countries. The political back-up is essential to its success.

Resources: Involved countries should secure sufficient resources (financial and human) to undertake this joint cooperative process. If Contracting Parties agree, Mediterranean Trust Fund may contribute to two workshops per biennium as part of the Programme of Work. External funding shall also be sought.

Criteria for success

Value sharing: Participating countries should share the same views on the standards and criteria for a successful improvement and learning process.

Mutual trust: A climate of mutual respect and sharing and large degree of mutual trust are important to the success of the improvement and learning approach.

Credibility: The effectiveness of the improvement and learning process heavily relies on the credibility of the review process and its mechanisms. For this it is key to involve an independent body (namely UNEP/MAP staff supporting the MCSD and staff from Plan Bleu) and, if at all possible, external experts (from another country or organization).

Mechanism

Designated Actors: A proper functioning of the simplified peer review requires the active involvement of the following actors:

- The participating countries: Two or more countries will be involved in the improvement and learning process. The participation of at least three countries would be a more effective option as it will enrich the exchanges and dialogue, provided sufficient funds are secured by the countries themselves or through a third party. The Coordinating Unit of the Mediterranean Action Plan will initiate the process through a call for proposals, for the Contracting Parties, to undertake a bilateral or multi-lateral improvement and learning process.
- Entity in charge: The MCSD, through its supporting staff at UNEP/MAP, will be the overall collective body within which the review is undertaken. This is in line with COP
18 Decision IG. 21/12, requesting the MCSD to encourage, through its meetings and operations, the exchange of good practice.

- Organization Secretariat: The Coordinating Unit of the Mediterranean Action Plan, through its staff supporting the MCSD, along with the support of Plan Bleu, will be the entity responsible for the peer review. It will, among others, support the process by producing documentation and analysis, facilitating interactions with involved countries, organising meetings, stimulating the exchanges and ensuring conformity and continuity.
- External experts: Depending on the scope of the improvement and learning process the participating countries will chose, there might be a need to involve external experts who can bring an independent perspective and enhance the credibility of the process.

Functioning: The proposed approach is not a classical peer review, but rather a cooperative, constructive and positive process of mutual improvement and learning. It should operate on the following basis:

- Guiding principles: (i) concerned countries participate at an equal level (no reviewed country, no examiner country); (ii) in-country multi-stakeholders involvement (government, economic actors, NGOs, civil society, academia, etc.); and (iii) high ranking participation to ensure credibility and commitment.
- Guiding questions: The participating countries, with the assistance of the Organization Secretariat and the guidance of the MCSD Steering Committee, should agree on lead questions that will guide the overall dialogue discussions and related round-tables.
- Implementation process: It should consist of (i) national preparatory round-tables; (ii) international (bilateral) joint meeting, and (iii) joint presentation of the outcomes at the MCSD Meeting.

Sought benefits for involved countries

Enhanced cooperation and partnership: The improvement and learning process can further the cooperation among the involved countries, and lead to enhanced partnerships among various stakeholders, nationally and internationally.

Contribution to capacity-building: The proposed process can be an important capacity building instrument. It will foster sharing information and skills, benefiting concerned countries and involved stakeholders. The national experts and/or practitioners, otherwise focussed on domestic issues, will be engaged in international exchanges and experiences.

Encouragement and enhancement of compliance: As the Mediterranean countries are engaged in environmental governance, under the Barcelona Convention and its Protocols, this improvement and learning process offers a platform for encouraging and enhancing the compliance for the Contracting Parties.

Cost-effectiveness: The participating countries will have access to expertise from other countries, free of charge. This simplified form of peer review will be definitely be more cost-effective than the expensive assessments by consultants and specialised firms.

The New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD), an African Union strategic framework for pan-African socio-economic development, is both a vision and a policy framework for Africa in the twenty-first century. NEPAD is a radically new intervention, spearheaded by African leaders, to address critical challenges facing the continent: poverty, development and Africa's marginalisation internationally.
