Over the last decade one million species were taken away from the wild, leading to a massive decline in the 8 pangolins species.

It is the most illegally traded mammal on the planet.