Report of the Executive Director

Summary

The present report presents the outcome of the informal open-ended consultations held by the President of the United Nations Environment Assembly with Member States. The aim of the consultations was to formulate new proposals on the following outstanding elements of a new United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) policy on stakeholder engagement:

- (a) Definition of stakeholder;
- (b) Accreditation process and criteria;
- (c) Access to pre-session and in-session documents;
- (d) Meetings of accredited major groups and stakeholders with the Bureau of the United Nations Environment Assembly.

The new policy on stakeholder engagement was prepared pursuant to Governing Council decision 27/2 on the implementation of paragraph 88 of the outcome document of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development, adopted by the Governing Council of UNEP at its first universal session, held in Nairobi of 18 to 22 February 2013.

The report also includes the text of the policy, as left at the end of the first session of the United Nations Environment Assembly, with those paragraphs removed that are addressed in my proposal. The text includes a draft decision for consideration by the Committee of the Whole.

Policy on stakeholder engagement in the United Nations Environment Programme

Note

This policy was prepared by the secretariat of UNEP pursuant to Governing Council decision 27/2 on the implementation of paragraph 88 of the outcome document of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development, adopted by the Governing Council of UNEP at its first universal session, held in Nairobi of 18 to 22 February 2013. That decision called for the active participation of all relevant stakeholders, particularly those from developing countries, to be ensured, drawing on best practices and models from relevant multilateral institutions, and for new mechanisms to be explored to promote transparency and the effective engagement of civil society in the work of the governing body of UNEP and that of its subsidiary organs, building on best practices in multilateral organizations.¹

This policy therefore sets forth the proposed new mechanisms for the promotion of transparency and the effective engagement of civil society with the Assembly and its subsidiary organs, to be submitted to the Assembly at its first session, to be held in Nairobi from 23 to 27 June 2014.

¹ This policy builds on best practices of stakeholder engagement in multilateral organizations. The secretariat of UNEP prepared a Review of Current Practices of Stakeholder Engagement in Multilateral Organizations, released in July 2013, as called for by Governing Council decision 27/2 (http://www.unep.org/civil-society/Portals/24105/documents/resources/stakeholder_engagement/Review_of_current_practices_of_stakeholder_engagement_in_multilateral_organisations_30July_2013.pdf).

1. Background

1. The participation of stakeholders in the work of UNEP is rooted in Principle 10 of the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development and in paragraph 88 (h) of the outcome document of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development, entitled “The future we want”, which calls for “the active participation of all relevant stakeholders, drawing on best practices and models from relevant multilateral institutions and exploring new mechanisms to promote transparency and the effective engagement of civil society” within the framework of its decision on strengthening the role of UNEP as the leading global environmental authority.²

2. Paragraph 7 of decision 27/2 of the UNEP Governing Council on the implementation of paragraph 88 of the outcome document of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development, adopted by the Governing Council at its first universal session in February 2013, mandates the governing body to ensure the active participation of all relevant stakeholders, particularly those from developing countries, drawing on best practices and models from relevant multilateral institutions. It also aims to explore new mechanisms to promote transparency and the effective engagement of civil society in its work and that of its subsidiary organs, among other things, by:

- (a) Developing by 2014 a process for stakeholder accreditation and participation that builds on the existing rules of procedure and takes into account inclusive modalities of the Commission of Sustainable Development and other relevant United Nations bodies;
- (b) Establishing by 2014 mechanisms and rules for stakeholders’ expert input and advice;
- (c) Enhancing by 2014 working methods and processes for informed discussions and contributions by all relevant stakeholders towards the intergovernmental decision-making process.

3. While input from stakeholders can provide a valuable contribution to the intergovernmental process, decision-making within UNEP remains the prerogative of Member States. This policy is intended to facilitate the effective engagement of stakeholders in the work of the United Nations Environment Assembly of UNEP and that of its subsidiary organs, and in the work of UNEP. The policy provides a set of principles and guidance to UNEP, its staff and stakeholders, and is intended to enhance practices in working and dealing with stakeholders in both routine and special circumstances, and to facilitate the effective engagement of stakeholders in the governance of UNEP. The policy will be accompanied by an implementation handbook, which will be drafted upon approval of the policy.³

4. The policy is aligned with all relevant UNEP and United Nations rules and regulations, as well as with the guidelines and initiatives relating to United Nations cooperation with stakeholders.⁴ It further builds on General Assembly resolution 67/290 on the format and organizational aspects of the High-level Political Forum on Sustainable Development.

² General Assembly resolution 66/288, annex.

³ The policy will be complemented by an implementation handbook, determining the operational and self-organization modalities of the major groups and stakeholders mechanism, which will be developed by the UNEP secretariat in an open and transparent manner upon approval of the policy.

⁴ Several reference documents guide the work of UNEP and the United Nations in working with stakeholders. These include the following: “Guidelines for participation of major groups and stakeholders in policy design at UNEP” (August 2009) (<http://www.unep.org/civil-society/Portals/24105/documents/Guidelines/Guidelines-for-CSO-participation-Aug2609.pdf>); “UNEP and indigenous peoples: a partnership in caring for the environment” (November 2012) (http://www.unep.org/civil-society/Portals/24105/documents/Guidelines/UNEP_Indigenous_Peoples_Policy_Guidance_endorsed_by_SMT_26_11_12.pdf); “UNEP guidelines for the development of national legislation on access to information, public participation and access to justice in environmental matters” (February 2010) (http://www.unep.org/civil-society/Portals/24105/documents/Guidelines/GUIDELINES_TO_ACCESS_TO_ENV_INFO_2.pdf); “Guidelines on cooperation between UNEP and business” (March 2004); “Guidelines on cooperation between the United Nations and the business community” (July 2000); and the UNEP partnership policy and procedures (September 2011).

Purpose of the policy

5. The outcome document of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development called in several instances⁵ for strengthened public participation, access to information and access to justice in environmental matters, and underlined the importance of partnerships with civil society in achieving the ambitions of its outcome document.

6. UNEP engages with civil society to benefit from its wide knowledge and experience in sustainable development and its involvement in UNEP processes and activities in keeping the environment under review and setting the global environmental agenda; in developing and implementing policies and programmes; and in improving environmental decision-making, as intergovernmental decisions will have broader recognition by and support from the public if the views of stakeholders are taken into account in the agenda-setting, policymaking, decision-making and implementation processes.

7. Civil society stakeholders often provide a way to channel the voices of those most likely to be affected by environmental problems and related policies, calling attention to emerging environmental problems, taking account of the interests of future generations and reaching out to society and the public at large.

2. Policy

A. Guiding principles

8. In accordance with the outcome document of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development, and taking into account the principles adopted by major groups and stakeholders at the Global Major Groups and Stakeholders Forum in February 2013, prior to the first universal session of the Governing Council of UNEP, this policy is founded on the following principles:⁶

8.1. Acknowledgement of the intergovernmental nature of UNEP processes, as set out in paragraph 3 above

8.2. Participation in decision-making processes

UNEP will grant participation and access privileges to all accredited stakeholders, consistent with the rules and practices governing its work. UNEP may also use social media and new information technology to foster broader participation.

8.3. Access to information

It is critically important to disseminate and make accessible the information concerning its work or information generated through its programme as widely as possible. Transparency, accountability, and openness can become a catalyst for achieving a greater impact. Particularly in the context of Principle 10 of the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development, it is of fundamental importance to make available relevant information to stakeholders and the public in general.

8.4. Transparency and accountability for mutual benefit

Engagement with major groups and stakeholders is based on the premise of mutual trust and benefit, transparency, responsibility and accountability.

8.5. Respect for diversity of views and self-organization

UNEP acknowledges the diversity of views among its stakeholders and, in striving for greater openness and with a view to embracing the full spectrum of civil society actors, including the UNEP national committees, will ensure that those differing voices are heard, including those outside the nine major groups.

⁵ In the outcome document, extensive reference is made to the involvement of civil society and stakeholders (see, for example, paragraphs 42–55 on engaging major groups and other stakeholders). In addition, paragraph 99 reads: “We encourage action at the regional, national, subnational and local levels to promote access to information, public participation and access to justice in environmental matters, as appropriate”.

⁶ Principles on Stakeholder Participation in UNEP, adopted at the fourteenth Global Major Groups and Stakeholders Forum, 17 February 2013 (http://www.unep.org/civil-society/Portals/24105/documents/GMGSF/GMGSF%2014/Stakeholder_participation_principles/Participation_and_Transparency_11_principles_as_adopted.pdf).

8.6. Improvements to current engagement practices

UNEP will promote continuous improvement of its current practices, including opportunities for exploring innovative mechanisms, without regression and with regard to current practice.

D. Privileges of accredited stakeholders

21. While retaining the intergovernmental character of the Assembly and its subsidiary organs, accredited stakeholders will have the opportunity to participate in the governance of UNEP and to work at two levels: on agenda-setting processes and on policymaking and decision-making processes.

22. All accredited stakeholders shall enjoy the same privileges, which shall include the following:

(a) Accredited stakeholders may participate in all public meetings of the Assembly and its subsidiary organs, in accordance with the relevant rules of procedure. In situations where seating is limited, stakeholders may be asked to designate representatives to occupy the available seats, in accordance with the procedures laid out in the implementation handbook, to be developed by the UNEP secretariat in consultation with major groups and stakeholders;

(c) Accredited stakeholders will provide the secretariat with a biennial communication outlining their activities in the field of the environment during the previous two years. This communication may be in the form of the annual report of the organization or may be a separate document prepared specifically to comply with this reporting requirement.

3. Other matters

A. Major groups and stakeholders forum

24. Prior to each session of the Assembly and the meeting of the open-ended Committee of Permanent Representatives, UNEP will facilitate the organization of a major groups and stakeholders forum that will provide an opportunity for accredited stakeholders to consolidate their views and prepare their input to the Assembly and its subsidiary organs.

25. Member States and representatives of international organizations may participate in the major groups and stakeholders forum as observers. Major groups and stakeholders are encouraged to submit the main outcomes of such meetings in writing to the Assembly, through the UNEP secretariat, on the first working day of the session of the Assembly.

B. Major groups and stakeholders mechanism

26. Accredited stakeholders may form stakeholder bodies or other groups to organize their contributions and facilitate their participation in UNEP processes. While self-organized, such bodies must adhere to the principles of transparency, responsibility and accountability, and respect the diversity of views among stakeholders on all issues.⁷

⁷ As set out in paragraph 3 of this report, the policy will be complemented by an implementation handbook, which will contain the operational and self-organization modalities of the major groups and stakeholders mechanism. The handbook will be developed by the UNEP secretariat in an open and transparent manner, and comments will be invited from Member States, including with regard to budgetary implications.

C. Use of information and communications technology to enhance effective participation

27. The use of modern information and communications technology will enhance the effective participation of stakeholders in a cost-effective manner. D. Participation of non-accredited stakeholders

28. While retaining the intergovernmental nature of the Assembly and its subsidiary organs, the president of the Assembly or the chairperson of a subsidiary organ, in consultation with the relevant bureaux, may invite a non-accredited organization or individual, on the basis of their competency, expertise and experience, to meetings of the Assembly and its subsidiary organs for a specific task or purpose, in accordance with the existing rules of procedure.

E. Delete in line with No. 8 of proposal of Assembly President of 18 February 2016
