INTRODUCTION

1. In accordance with resolution 2997 (XXVII) of the United Nations General Assembly, UNEP was established “as a focal point for environmental action and co-ordination within the United Nations system”. The Governing Council of UNEP has defined this environmental action as encompassing a comprehensive, transsectorial approach to environmental problems which should deal not only with the consequences but also with the causes of environmental degradation.

2. The UNEP Governing Council has designated “Oceans” among the priority areas in which activities are to be developed, and the early meetings of the Governing Council endorsed a regional approach to the control of marine pollution and management of marine and coastal resources. Consequently, in 1974 the Regional Seas Programme of UNEP was initiated.¹

3. At present, in accordance with the decisions of the Governing Council, the Regional Seas Programme covers eleven areas where regional action plans are operative or are under development: the Mediterranean region (adopted in 1975); the Kuwait Action Plan region (adopted in 1978); the West and Central African region (adopted in 1981); the Wider Caribbean region (adopted in 1981); the East Asian Seas region (adopted in 1981); the South East Pacific region (adopted in 1981); the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden region (adopted in 1982); the South Pacific region (adopted in 1982); the Eastern African region (adopted in 1985); the South Asian Seas region (to be developed, adoption expected in 1987); and the South-West Atlantic region (to be developed).

4. The substantive aspect of any regional programme is outlined in an “action plan” which is formally adopted by an intergovernmental meeting of the Governments of a particular region before the programme enters an operational phase. In the preparatory phase leading to the adoption of the action plan, Governments are consulted through a series of meetings and missions about the scope and substance of an action plan suitable for their region. In addition, with the co-operation of appropriate global and regional organizations, reviews on the specific environmental problems of the region are prepared in order to assist the Governments in identifying the most urgent problems in the region and the corresponding priorities to be assigned to the various activities outlined in the action plan. UNEP coordinates directly, or in some regions indirectly through existing regional organizations, the preparations leading to the adoption of the action plan.

5. All action plans are structured in a similar way, although the specific activities for any region are dependent upon the needs and priorities of that region. An action plan usually includes the following components:

(a) Environmental assessment. This concerns assessing and evaluating the causes of environmental problems as well as their magnitude and impact on the region. Emphasis is given to such activities as: baseline studies; research and monitoring of the sources, levels and effects of marine pollutants; eco-system studies; studies of coastal and marine activities and social and economic factors that may influence, or may be influenced by, environmental degradation. Environmental assessment is undertaken to assist national policy makers to manage their natural resources in a more effective and sustainable manner and to provide information on the effectiveness of legal/administrative measures taken to improve the quality of the environment;

(b) Environmental management. Each regional programme includes a wide range of activities in the field of environmental management. Examples of such activities are: co-operative regional projects on training in environmental impact assessment; management of coastal lagoons, estuaries and mangrove ecosystems; control of industrial, agricultural and domestic wastes; and formulation of contingency plans for dealing with pollution emergencies. As both environmental assessment and environmental management activities are to be actually carried out by designated national institutions, assistance and training are provided, where necessary, to allow national institutions to participate fully in the programme;

(c) Environmental legislation. An umbrella regional convention, elaborated by specific technical protocols, often provides a legal framework for co-operative regional and national actions. The legal commitment of Governments clearly expresses their political will to manage individually and jointly their common environmental problems;

(d) Institutional arrangements. When adopting an action plan, Governments agree upon an organization to act as the permanent or interim secretariat of the action plan. Governments are also expected to decide upon the periodicity of intergovernmental meetings which are to be responsible for reviewing the progress of the agreed workplan and for approving new activities and the necessary budgetary support;

(e) Financial arrangements. UNEP, together with selected United Nations and other organizations, provides "seed money" or catalytic financing in the early stages of regional programmes. However, as a programme develops, it is expected that the Governments of the region will progressively assume full financial responsibility. Government financing is usually channelled through special regional trust funds to which Governments make annual contributions. These funds are administered by the organization responsible for the secretariat functions of the action plan. In addition, Governments may contribute directly to the national institutions participating in the programme or to specific project activities.

6. It is essential to bear in mind that all components of a regional programme are interdependent. Assessment activities identify the problems that need priority attention in the region. Legal agreements are negotiated to strengthen co-operation among States in managing the identified problems. They also provide an important tool for national policy-makers to implement national control activities. Management activities, aimed at controlling existing environmental problems and preventing the development of new ones, are one of the means by which States fulfill their treaty obligations. Co-ordinated assessment activities then continue to assist Governments by providing scientific information by which to judge whether the legal agreements and management policies are effective.

7. This publication contains the texts of the three legal agreements that have been adopted for the protection, management and development of the marine and coastal environment of the Eastern African region. In considering the agreements, the comprehensive scope of environmental assessment and management activities that are to be carried out to support and make effective the Parties' legal commitments should be borne in mind.

9. As a result of its deliberations, the conference adopted the following action plan and legal agreements:

Protocol concerning Protected Areas and Wild Fauna and Flora in the Eastern African Region;

10. The Government of the Republic of Kenya has been designated as the Depositary for the convention and protocols. UNEP has been designated as responsible for the secretariat functions of the action plan, convention and protocols. A list of signatories to the convention and protocols is presented in the appendix at the end of this document.

11. The convention is a comprehensive, umbrella agreement for the protection, management and development of the marine and coastal environment. It lists the sources of pollution which require control: pollution from ships, dumping, land-based sources and seabed activities together with airborne pollution. It also identifies environmental management issues for which co-operative efforts are to be made: specially protected areas, co-operation in cases of emergency, environmental damage from engineering activities, environmental impact assessment and scientific and technical co-operation. There is also an article on liability and compensation.

12. By ratifying a protocol, a party accepts more specific obligations to control pollution from a discrete source, or to co-operate in a specific aspect of environmental management. Under the convention no State or regional intergovernmental integration organization may become a contracting party to the convention without also becoming a party to at least one protocol. It is foreseen that additional protocols will be developed in the future.

13. It should be noted that the adoption of the convention and protocols was facilitated by the preparatory work undertaken and the assistance provided by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, the International Maritime Organization, and the International Union for the Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources.

5 Convention, article 4.
CONVENTION FOR THE PROTECTION, MANAGEMENT AND DEVELOPMENT OF THE MARINE AND COASTAL ENVIRONMENT OF THE EASTERN AFRICAN REGION

The Contracting Parties,

Fully aware of the economic and social value of the marine and coastal environment of the Eastern African region,

Conscious of their responsibility to preserve their natural heritage for the benefit and enjoyment of present and future generations,

Recognizing the special hydrographic and ecological characteristics of the region which require special care and responsible management,

Recognizing further the threat to the marine and coastal environment, its ecological equilibrium, resources and legitimate uses posed by pollution and by the insufficient integration of an environmental dimension into the development process,

Seeking to ensure that resource development shall be in harmony with the maintenance of the environmental quality of the region and the evolving principles of rational environmental management,

Realizing fully the need for co-operation amongst themselves and with competent international and regional organizations in order to ensure a coordinated and comprehensive development of the natural resources of the region,

Recognizing the desirability of promoting the wider acceptance and national implementation of existing international environmental agreements,

Noting, however, that existing international conventions concerning the marine and coastal environment do not cover, in spite of the progress achieved, all aspects and sources of marine pollution and environmental degradation and do not entirely meet the special requirements of the Eastern African region,

Desirous to adopt a regional convention elaborated within the framework of the Action Plan for the Protection, Management and Development of the Marine and Coastal Environment of the Eastern African Region adopted at Nairobi on 21 June 1985,

Have agreed as follows,

PROTOCOL CONCERNING CO-OPERATION IN COMBATING MARINE POLLUTION IN CASES OF EMERGENCY IN THE EASTERN AFRICAN REGION

The Contracting Parties to the present Protocol,

Being Contracting parties to the Convention for the Protection, Management and Development of the Marine and Coastal Environment of the Eastern African region, done at Nairobi on 21 June 1985,

Conscious that the use of the Eastern African region and adjacent areas for vessel traffic, oil production and refining activities poses the risk of major spillages of oil and other harmful substances and the subsequent serious threat to the marine and coastal environment and related interests of the States of the region,

Noting the International Maritime Organization's Assembly Resolution A.448(XI) which recognizes that regional anti-pollution arrangements are a valuable and economical way of supplementing national arrangements for the effective combating of major spillages of oil and other harmful substances in cases of emergency,

Recognizing that in the event of major spillages of oil and other harmful substances or threat thereof, prompt and effective action should be taken, initially at the local level, to mitigate the effects or eliminate the threat,

Further recognizing that for major spillages mutual assistance, and in some cases, assistance from the international community at large will be required, and that such assistance should be organized in advance so as to be timely and effective,

Aware of existing agreements and arrangements which have already been concluded in other regions for co-operation in dealing with spillages of oil and other harmful substances,

Have agreed as follows:

Article 1
DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of this Protocol:

(a) "Eastern African region" means the Convention area as defined in paragraph (a) of article 2 of the Convention. It shall also include the coastal areas of the Contracting Parties and their internal waters related to the marine and coastal environment;
(b) "Convention" means the Convention for the Protection, Management and Development of the Marine and Coastal Environment of the Eastern African Region;

(c) "Organization" means the body referred to in paragraph (c) of article 2 of the Convention;

(d) "Marine pollution incident" means a discharge or spillage of oil or other harmful substance into the marine environment, or a significant threat of such a discharge or spillage, however caused, of a magnitude that requires emergency action or other immediate response for the purpose of minimizing its effects or eliminating the threat;

(e) "Oil" means petroleum in any form including crude oil, fuel oil, sludge, oil refuse and refined products;

(f) "Harmful substances" means any substance other than oil which, if introduced into the sea creates hazards to human health, harms living resources and marine life, damages amenities or interferes with other legitimate uses of the sea;

(g) "Related interests" means the interests of a Contracting Party directly affected or threatened by oil or other harmful substances and concerning, among others:

(i) The health of the coastal population;

(ii) Maritime, coastal, port or estuarine activities;

(iii) Fishing activities and the conservation of natural resources;

(iv) The historical and tourist appeal of the area in question, including water sports and recreation.

Article 2
APPLICATION

This Protocol applies to marine pollution incidents which have resulted in or which pose a significant threat of, pollution to the marine and coastal environment of the Eastern African region or which adversely affect the related interests of one or more of the Contracting Parties.

Article 3
GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. The Contracting Parties shall, within their capabilities, co-operate in taking all necessary measures, both preventive and remedial, for the protection of the marine and coastal environment of the Eastern African region from marine pollution incidents.

2. The Contracting Parties shall, within their capabilities, establish and maintain the means of responding to marine pollution incidents and shall endeavour to reduce the risk thereof. Such means shall include the enactment, as necessary, of relevant legislation, the preparation of contingency plans, the identification and development of the capability to respond to marine pollution incidents and the designation of a national authority with overall responsibility for the implementation of this Protocol.

Article 4

Exchange of Information

Each Contracting Party shall periodically exchange with the other Contracting Parties up-to-date information relating to the implementation of this Protocol, including the identity of the authorities responsible for such implementation, and information on their laws, regulations, institutions and operational procedures relating to the prevention of a marine pollution incident and to the means of reducing and combating the harmful effects of such incidents.

Article 5

Communication of Information Concerning, and Reporting of, Marine Pollution Incidents

1. Each Contracting Party shall establish appropriate procedures to ensure that information regarding marine pollution incidents is reported as rapidly as possible, and shall, inter alia:

(a) Require its appropriate officials, masters of ships flying its flag and persons in charge of offshore facilities operating under its jurisdiction to report to it any marine pollution incident involving their ships or facilities;

(b) Request masters of all ships and pilots of all aircraft operating in the vicinity of its coasts to report to it any marine pollution incident of which they are aware.

2. Guidelines to be followed in preparing the report to be made pursuant to paragraph 1 are given in the annex to this Protocol.

3. In the event of receiving a report regarding a marine pollution incident, a Contracting Party shall immediately notify all other Contracting Parties whose interests are likely to be affected by such an incident, as well as the flag State of any ship involved in it. The Contracting Party shall also inform the Organization and the competent international organizations. Furthermore, as soon as feasible, it shall inform such Contracting Parties, the Organization and competent international organizations of measures it has taken to minimize or reduce marine pollution or the threat thereof.

Article 6

Mutual Assistance

1. Each Contracting Party shall render assistance, within its available capabilities, to other Contracting Parties which request assistance of it in the event of a marine pollution incident, as appropriate, within the framework of joint response action agreed between or among the requesting and assisting Contracting Parties and taking into account, in the event of a marine pollution incident involving harmful substances other than oil, the available technology.

2. Each Contracting Party shall, subject to its laws and regulations, facilitate the movement into, through and out of its territory of technical personnel, equipment and material necessary for responding to a marine pollution incident.
