26. The third parallel session was moderated by Mr. Emmanuel Bensah and the lead presentation was delivered by Mr. Peter Lukey, Chief Policy Advisor, Strategic Environmental Intelligence, Department of Environmental Affairs, South Africa.
27. Further presentations on key aspects of the subject under discussion were delivered by Mr. Johnson Nkem, UN Women; Mr. Al-Hamdou Dorsouma, Manager, Climate and Green Growth Division, African Development Bank; and Mr. Lukey.
28. Comments were made by the representatives of Cameroon, Ethiopia, Ghana, the NEPAD African Biosafety Network of Expertise, the Catholic Youth Network for Environmental Sustainability in Africa, the African Development Bank, Ms. Olayide and a member of the African media, to which the panellists gave responses.

D. Africa's ecological futures

29. The fourth parallel session, on Africa's ecological futures, was moderated by Mr. Saliem Fakir, Head, Policy and Futures Unit, World Wide Fund for Nature, who also delivered the lead presentation.
30. Further presentations on key aspects of the subject under discussion were delivered by Mr. Maxwell Gomera, Director, Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services, UNEP; Ms. Rose Mwebaza, Chief, Natural Resources Management, African Development Bank; and Mr. Peter Odhengo, Senior Policy Advisor on Climate Finance, National Treasury, Kenya.
31. Comments were made by the representatives of Botswana, South Africa, UNEP and the African Forest Forum. The panellists responded to the various comments.

VIII. Summary reports

32. At the second plenary session, on the morning of Friday, 21 September, the Co-Moderator delivered an oral report summarizing the previous day's proceedings.
33. The moderators of the four parallel breakout sessions then reported on the discussions in those sessions.
34. Comments were made by the representatives of Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Côte d'Ivoire, Guinea, Kenya, Rwanda and, lastly, South Africa, to whom Ms. Njenga gave a response. Comments were also made by the representatives of the secretariat of the United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification and the East African Community.
35. The Partnership Platform then viewed a short film showing the highlights of an awards ceremony held on the eve of the present meeting to recognize the contribution of various countries, institutions and individuals to the management of Africa's environmental assets.

IX. Adoption of the official communiqué

36. At the second plenary session, on the morning of Friday 21 September, the representative of Ethiopia presented a draft communiqué that had been prepared to mark the first meeting of the Africa Environment Partnership Platform.
37. Amendments were suggested by the representatives of Cameroon, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Morocco, Sierra Leone, South Africa and Uganda, as well as by the representatives of the Economic Community of West African States and the African Development Bank.
38. The Partnership Platform adopted by acclamation the official communiqué, as orally amended.

X. Closure of the meeting

39. Closing remarks were made by Mr. Emmanuel Bayani Ngoyi, Director-General, National Anti-Pollution Centre, Ministry of Water and Forestry (Gabon), representing the President of AMCEN; Ms. Fotabong, also speaking on behalf of the African Union Commission; Ms. Njenga; and Mr. Richard Mwendadu, Director for Multilateral Environmental Agreements, Ministry of Environment and Forestry of Kenya.
40. The meeting was declared closed at 1.45 p.m. on Friday, 21 September 2018.

Annex

Communiqué

We, the participants in the first meeting of the Africa Environment Partnership Platform, all of whom have an active interest in environmental governance and sustainability and related areas, gathered in Nairobi, Kenya, on 20 and 21 September 2018,

Recalling the decision of the African Ministerial Conference on the Environment (AMCEN) at its fourteenth session, which called for the creation of an African Environment Partnership Platform to “coordinate, mobilize resources, foster knowledge and align support for the implementation of the NEPAD Environment Action Plan”,

Recalling that the decision, which was contained in AMCEN’s Africa’s post-Rio+20 strategy for sustainable development, requested the New Partnership for Africa’s Development (NEPAD) Agency and the African Union Commission, in close collaboration with the United Nations Environment Programme, the African Development Bank, the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa, regional economic communities and other relevant partners, to develop modalities for the operationalization of the African Environment Partnership Platform,

Understanding that attaining environmental sustainability in Africa will be accomplished within the context of multi-stakeholder engagements that foster inclusiveness and transformational socioeconomic development, and recognizing the importance of all stakeholders, especially vulnerable communities that depend on the rich environmental resources for basic livelihoods,

Recalling the official launch of the Africa Environment Partnership Platform on 17 November 2016, at the twenty-second session of the Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, in Marrakech, Morocco, where it was decided to convene the inaugural meeting of the Platform,

Noting that the first meeting of the Africa Environment Partnership Platform covered the following issues:

- Review of 50 years of environmental governance in Africa;
 - Environment as an asset for Africa’s socioeconomic transformation and attainment of the Sustainable Development Goals and Agenda 2063: The Africa We Want;
 - Policy choices and partnerships on Africa’s environmental governance systems and partnerships and the way they will affect the future;
 - Environmental crime and corruption;
 - Status of implementation of multilateral environment agreements in Africa;
 - Innovations within the environment sector and emerging issues linked with the environment sector; and
 - Africa’s ecological futures;
1. Commend AMCEN for its vision in establishing the Platform to serve as a multi-stakeholder forum for engagement, advocacy, resource mobilization and partnership building for environmental sustainability in Africa;
 2. Welcome the Platform as an open platform for coordination, sharing and learning from each other and collectively examining environmental development, scaling up opportunities and appreciating the unique value the Platform will bring to efforts towards advancing environmental governance in Africa and mainstreaming the environment into other productive sectors;
 3. Also welcome the Platform as a mechanism for fostering coherence, alignment and harmonization for environmental sustainability and governance within and across various levels and constituencies, including governments, regional economic communities, multilateral institutions, the private sector, civil society, research institutions and other non-state players;
 4. Appreciate the efforts of the organizing team, in particular the NEPAD Agency, the African Union Commission, AMCEN Secretariat, the World Wide Fund for Nature, the United Nations Environment Programme, the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa, the Pan-African Climate Justice Alliance and the African Development Bank, to convene the first meeting of the Platform as an open, stakeholder-driven platform;
 5. Recognize the contributions of the various stakeholders, including civil society, the private sector and development partners, implementing and supporting various environmental initiatives and programmes across the African continent and contributing to the attainment of the environmental components of the Sustainable Development Goals, Agenda 2063 and various multilateral environmental agreements;

6. Also recognize the need for a consolidated knowledge base on innovative solutions for technologies, approaches, practices and initiatives in Africa;

7. Decide to:

(a) Convene meetings of the African Environment Partnership Platform biennially with a focus on facilitating country experiences, lessons and best practice in the efforts to accelerate sustainable environmental practices;

(b) Request development partners and multilateral institutions to continue to support the Platform as a vehicle for promoting the sharing of innovative solutions for environmental challenges in Africa, and for empowering member States and regional economic communities, innovators, the private sector, micro-, small and medium-sized enterprises and civil society to invest in and use innovative approaches to address environmental challenges;

(c) Promote the Platform as a knowledge-sharing mechanism for disseminating information, sharing experiences and lessons, and improving coordination with member States and regional institutions and processes relating to environmental management and sustainable development in Africa;

(d) Request the NEPAD Agency, the African Union Commission and the AMCEN secretariat, with technical and financial support from the African Development Bank, the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa, development partners and others, to set up a comprehensive portal on environmental governance on the Platform;

(e) Request the NEPAD Agency, as the convener of the Platform, in collaboration with AMCEN, the African Union Commission and other partners' leading efforts, to support country approaches in the implementation of the national priority environmental projects and programmes, including strengthening the capacity to implement and monitor progress towards the attainment of the objectives of regional flagship programmes, the Environment Action Plan, the Sustainable Development Goals and Agenda 2063;

(f) Request the NEPAD Agency, the African Union Commission and AMCEN to promote capacity development and the financing of environmental projects at different levels, and to explore mechanisms for securing needed funds from both public sources (national and development partners) and private sources, including international environmental project financing;

(g) Request all stakeholders of the Platform to mainstream and scale up gender, women, youth and entrepreneurship considerations and actions into new and existing environmental activities across the continent;

(h) Request the establishment of an inclusive and transparent mechanism for all stakeholders of the Platform to track progress in the implementation of the multilateral environmental agreements through strengthening an observatory on the agreements and to support implementation of environmental programmes and projects in Africa;

(i) Call upon all African countries to ratify the revised African Convention on the Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources (Maputo Convention);

(j) Recognize indigenous knowledge and customary governance systems as part of Africa's rich heritage in addressing environmental issues and urge the Platform to strongly advocate the use of these practices at all levels;

(k) Request the NEPAD Agency and the African Union Commission, in collaboration with other partners of the Platform task team, to design mechanisms for follow-up and strengthen collaboration on issues emanating from the first meeting of the Platform and the implementation of the recommendations.

Adopted in Nairobi, Kenya, on 21 September 2018
