

Introduction

La Huitième réunion ordinaire des Parties contractantes à la Convention pour la protection de la mer Méditerranée contre la pollution (Antalya, Turquie, 12-15 octobre 1993) a décidé ce qui suit:

Elle a invité instamment les Parties contractantes qui ne l'ont pas encore fait à ratifier le Protocole relatif à la pollution d'origine tellurique, le Protocole relatif aux aires spécialement protégées, la Convention internationale pour la prévention de la pollution par les navires (1973) et le Protocole y relatif de 1978 (MARPOL 73/78), la Convention internationale sur la préparation, la lutte et la coopération en matière de pollution par les hydrocarbures (OPCR) (1990), la Convention internationale sur la responsabilité civile pour les dommages dus à la pollution par les hydrocarbures (1969), la Convention internationale portant création d'un fonds international d'indemnisation pour les dommages dus à la pollution par les hydrocarbures (1971) et la Convention de Bâle sur le contrôle des mouvements transfrontières de déchets dangereux et leur élimination (1989).

En outre, la réunion d'Antalya a invité les Parties contractantes à examiner la situation de leur pays au regard des conventions, protocoles et accords internationaux et à accélérer si possible la signature des instruments qui peuvent avoir une influence positive sur le bassin méditerranéen - par exemple, sur les CFC, la biodiversité, les changements climatiques ou la préparation des conventions appropriées telles que celle relative à la désertification.

En conséquence, et en vue d'aider les Parties contractantes à appliquer ces décisions, le Secrétariat a établi un document d'information sur diverses conventions et accords pertinents en matière d'environnement qui offrent une utilité pour l'oeuvre du Plan d'action pour la Méditerranée (PAM) et auxquels les pays méditerranéens sont déjà parties. Les signataires sont également indiqués pour les conventions pertinentes en matière d'environnement qui ne sont pas encore entrées en vigueur. La liste fait l'objet d'un examen détaillé pour faire ressortir le statut actuel de participation (signature, ratification, adhésion, approbation) à ces conventions et accords, selon l'agencement de la première page du présent document concernant la Convention de Barcelone et les Protocoles y relatifs, sur la base des renseignements qui étaient disponibles, au 31 décembre 1993, à l'Unité de coordination du Plan d'action pour la Méditerranée.
