

Statements of Iraq:

We would like to thank the Government of Thailand for the good reception and hospitality. We also thank UNEP for the good organization, and we congratulate you for heading the team.

We support the opinion, as it should be among the tasks of the team to take into account the capabilities available to developing countries and the possibility of applying technology according to the available resources and to address issues related to chemicals and pollution resulting from it, and for the team to contribute to the sharing of information and various experiences

Evaluation and development of policies, institutional construction and evaluation of procedures contribute to supporting the sound management of chemicals and waste, provided that this is integrated with SEKEM and the relevant agreements.
