

DECLARATION OF INTERESTS FOR EXPERTS
SERVING IN THE UNEP AND WHO EXPERT GROUP ON THE STATE OF THE SCIENCE
REPORT ON ENDOCRINE DISRUPTING CHEMICALS

The work of UNEP and WHO in updating the report entitled “State of the Science of Endocrine Disrupting Chemicals 2012” requires the assistance of external experts as members of an expert group established to guide and support the work. These experts may have interests related to their expertise. To ensure the highest integrity and public confidence in their activities, UNEP and WHO require that experts serving in the expert group on the State of the Science Report on Endocrine Disrupting Chemicals disclose any circumstances that could give rise to a potential conflict of interest related to the subject of the activity in which they will be involved.

All experts serving in the expert group must disclose any circumstances that could represent a potential conflict of interest (i.e., any interest that may affect, or may reasonably be perceived to affect, the expert's objectivity and independence).

You must disclose on this Declaration of Interests (DOI) form any financial, professional or other interest relevant to the subject of the work or meeting in which you have been asked to participate in or contribute towards and any interest that could be affected by the outcome of the meeting or work. You must also declare relevant interests of your immediate family members (see definition below) and, if you are aware of it, relevant interests of other parties with whom you have substantial common interests and which may be perceived as unduly influencing your judgment (e.g., employer, close professional associates, administrative unit or department). Please note that not fully completing and disclosing all relevant information on this form may, depending on the circumstances, lead UNEP and WHO to decide not to appoint you to UNEP and/or WHO advisory bodies/functions in the future.

Please complete this form and submit it as part of your application to be part of the UNEP and WHO expert group on the State of the Science Report on Endocrine Disrupting Chemicals by e-mail to science.chemicals@un.org no later than midnight CET on 28 June 2024. You must also promptly inform UNEP and WHO if there is any change in this information prior to, or during the course of, an expert group meeting or work. All experts must complete this form before participation in the expert group can be confirmed.

Answering "Yes" to a question on this form does not automatically disqualify you or limit your participation in a UNEP and/or WHO activity. Your answers will be reviewed by UNEP and WHO to determine whether you have a conflict of interest relevant to the subject at hand. One of the outcomes listed in the next paragraph can occur depending on the circumstances (e.g., nature and magnitude of the interest, timeframe and duration of the interest).

UNEP and WHO may conclude that no potential conflict exists or that the interest is irrelevant or insignificant. If, however, a declared interest is determined to be potentially or clearly significant, one or more of the following three measures for managing the conflict of interest may be applied. UNEP and WHO (i) allow full participation, with public disclosure of your interest; (ii) mandate partial exclusion (i.e. you will be excluded from that portion of the meeting or work related to the declared interest and from the corresponding decision making process); or (iii) mandate total exclusion (i.e., you will not be able to participate in any part of the meeting or work).

All potentially significant interests will be disclosed to the other participants at the start of the activity and you will be asked if there have been any changes. A summary of all declarations and actions taken to manage any declared interests will be published in resulting reports and work products. Furthermore, if the objectivity of the work or meeting in which you are involved is subsequently questioned, the contents of your DOI form may be made available by UNEP and WHO to persons outside UNEP and WHO if the Director-General of WHO and the Executive Director of UNEP consider such disclosure to be in the best interest of the Organizations, after consulting with you. Completing this DOI form means that you agree to these conditions.

If you are unable or unwilling to disclose the details of an interest that may pose a real or perceived conflict, you must disclose that a conflict of interest may exist and UNEP and WHO may decide that you be totally recused from the meeting or work concerned, after consulting with you.
