

What will change in your Contracting Parties' National Agendas?

How will your regional sea support that?

- Value added?

A large school of fish, likely sea bream, is swimming in clear blue water. The fish are arranged in a loose, organized pattern, moving towards the right side of the frame. The water is a deep, vibrant blue, and the lighting is bright, creating a clear view of the fish's scales and fins. There are also several smaller, darker fish scattered throughout the background.

Will your Regional Seas programme drive an agenda for implementation of the SDGs?

Or are you preparing for the 'National' SDGs to drive your agenda?

Is it re-labelling what you are already doing or...

Will SDGs drive new activities – if so what?

Can the regional or marine perspective open up new ways of looking at SDGs.

Can the regional sea coordination release funding; offer better progress?
