

In-depth briefing and workshop with UN Environment Programme on
Governing Solar Geoengineering and Carbon Removal

Conference Room 13, United Nations Office at Nairobi, Kenya

Wednesday 23rd May 2018, 08:30 – 12:30

AGENDA

- 08:30–08:40      Welcome and introduction (10 mins)
Janos Pasztor (Executive Director, C2G2)
- 08:40–08:45      Background and context: Climate change (5 mins)
Wenjian Zhang (Assistant Secretary General, WMO)
- 08:45–09:45      “To Tech or Not To Tech”: A game on technology, science and governance (60 mins)
An interactive session exploring options for managing climate risks.
Nicholas Harrison (Senior Programme Manager, C2G2)
- 09:45–10:15      What are Solar Geoengineering and Carbon Removal? (30 mins)
  - Solar Geoengineering: Technologies and techniques; State of development; Future prospects;
Douglas MacMartin (Cornell University)
  - Carbon Removal: Technologies and techniques; State of development; Role in IPCC scenarios; Future prospects;
Speaker TBC (TBC);
- 10:15–10:25      Civil society considerations on governance (10 mins)
Stephan Singer (Senior Adviser, CAN)
- 10:25–10:35      Considerations for governance (10 mins)
Arunabha Ghosh (Executive Director, CEEW)
- 10:35–10:45      How to get the governance we need (10 mins)
What current international governance is relevant? What future governance is needed? How might we get there? Janos Pasztor
(Executive Director, C2G2)
- 10:45–11:15      Question and answers session with the panel (30 mins)
- 11:15–12:15      Breakout session (60 mins)
Participants discuss in small groups what issues and questions this raises for their country, region, organisation.
- 12:15–12:30      Concluding comments (10 mins)
Janos Pasztor (Executive Director, C2G2)
- 12:30              Lunch provided