

There should be a complementarity role between UNEP and MEAs

We have enough decisions in UNEP and the gap is in means of implementation, therefore we need to strengthen providing means of implementation to the countries. In this regard, UNEP for example can play as a pool of technology and providing member states, especially developing countries to have access to technical means of implementation.

In the matter of the scientific UNEP role, equal representations in science policy platform to be given to the region.